WORKSHOPS

We have prepared the 2014 schedule and it once again offers a range of options, including basic and follow-up candle and soap making courses for care institutions. There are also tailor-made courses for care institutions as well as for other interested parties.

We can also present onsite courses, if preferred. Take a look at our brochure or simply download it from the website. Make sure to stay up-to-date, because you will again receive a 10% discount on your first order following participation in one of our courses/workshops.

RSPO SOAP

Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil

Palm oil is an essential ingredient in many products, as well as in the most widely-produced plant-based oils. However, the expansion of palm oil plantations in tropical regions is leading to major deforestation.

There is no longer any excuse for not switching to sustainable palm oil, especially for the manufacture of cosmetics and soap, since enough sustainable palm oil is being produced to supply Europe and the United States. The RSPO verifies that Palm oil has been produced using sustainable methods.

It is a non-profit organisation that aims to encourage the use and cultivation of sustainable palm oil.

This organisation, founded in 2004 with its headquarters in Geneva, ensures the sustainability and fair trade of palm oil products such as soap granulate. The RSPO conducts audits in order to guarantee that new palm trees (at the right plantations) form part of plans, that arable land that could be used to cultivate food for local populations is not sacrificed and that labourers are treated fairly in a safe working environment.
